9.4 Measures to prevent loss or damage

In the event of legal action deriving from a claim for a covered loss, or a third-party claim, the Company will handle the entire proceedings and engage legal counsel of its choice.

If one or more insurance companies are liable for loss or damage, they shall, unless otherwise negotiated, pay proportional compensation according to the liability of each for the loss or damage. The Company that compensates the loss or damage may demand proportional reimbursement from the other companies.

This provision does not apply to travel accident insurance.

9.10 Right of recourse

In the event that the insured is entitled to financial compensation against another party due to a covered loss, the Company acquires that right to the extent that it has paid compensation to the insured. The insured must, in such cases, take the necessary measures to secure the claim until such time as the Company can guard its own interests.

9.11 Violations of the precautionary principles

Precautionary principles are rules of conduct set forth with the intent to prevent and limit loss or damage. A precondition for paying compensation from the insurance is that the established precautionary principles have always been followed.

The insurance cover according to this part of the terms and conditions is provided for the lease of ONE RENTAL CAR IN EACH INDIVIDUAL CASE.

In the event of loss or damage, the insured must notify the Company as soon as possible, in accordance with further instructions provided by the Company or the card issuer. When loss or damage has occurred, or if there is a direct risk that it will occur, the insured must try to avert or minimise the loss or damage. The insured shall also make arrangements to indemnify the Company, should he have a right to indemnity from a third party. The insured shall provide the Company with an option to inspect and assess the loss or damage prior to repairs being carried out or damaged items disposed of. If the insured neglects these duties, such neglect may cause a reduction or loss of insurance coverage according to Act No. 30/2004 on Insurance Contracts.

Article 6. Determination of liability

No one may admit liability on behalf of the Company without having obtained written approval from the Company, nor may any party pledge any kind of obligation on the Company's behalf. When assessing whether conduct is considered to involve gross negligence, account will be taken, among other things, of whether or not the insured was considered able to control a vehicle securely, or whether he was unable to do so according to the provisions of the Traffic Act because of the foregoing consumption of alcohol, drugs, stimulants or tranquillizing medication.

Violations of precautionary rules:

a. Precautionary principles are rules of conduct set forth with the intent to prevent and limit loss or damage. It is a precondition for approving the insurance that the set precautionary principles have always been followed.

e. When the loss or damage occurs because of defects in material, design faults, defective workmanship, faulty repair or breakdown of the vehicle. However, damage to other parts of the vehicle resulting from the above causes will be compensated in the event of colliding, collision, overturning or skidding off-road.

SECTION 3. RENTAL CAR SUPPLEMENTAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

Article 10. Validity

a. If a cardholder has a valid card the Company will compensate for any claim for which the insured persons specified in the rental agreement, as drivers of the rented vehicle during the rental period, may be liable vis-à-vis a third party. This present insurance policy takes over when damage claims that may accrue to the insured have exceeded insurance amounts and the deductibles from the mandatory liability insurance for the rental car and/or other similar liability insurance which the car rental company or the cardholder has taken/purchased. The provisions of this insurance policy are under no circumstances more extensive than the insurance provisions of the car rental agreement.

b. The insured are the drivers of the rental car, who are the cardholder along with drivers connected with the cardholder: his spouse, registered domestic partner, children, parents, parents-in-law, siblings, customer and colleague. The insured drivers shall be listed in the RENTAL AGREEMENT, AND THE DRIVER SPECIFIED FIRST MUST BE THE HOLDER OF THE CARD. All insured drivers must have a valid driving licence and aged 21 to 74.

c. This insurance is not valid in Iceland, Russia and the former republics of the Soviet Union (Baltic countries excluded), Africa (S-Africa excluded) and not within the cardholder's country of residence.

Article 11. Insurance amount

The Company pays up to USD 1,000,000 in excess damages during the insurance period.

Article 12. Scope of coverage

This insurance is a supplemental liability insurance and provides the same insurance cover as that covered by the mandatory liability insurance of the rental car or other comparable liability insurance which the car rental company or the cardholder has taken/purchased.

It is a precondition for receiving compensation from the insurance policy that the insurers of a mandatory liability insurance for the rental car or other insurers that provide similar liability insurance for car rental companies have accepted liability or have been considered liable to pay a claim for damages that has been made. This insurance will take over when the mandatory liability insurance or other comparable liability insurance cannot pay in full the claim for damages because the insurance amount has been fully paid, in which case this insurance will pay that difference up to the maximum referred to in Article 2 above.

The insurance policy will in particular cover any insured individual against whom claims are made or an action at law is brought, however, with the exception that the involvement of more than one insured individual shall not result in an increase in the insurance amount specified in Article 2 above.

Article 13 Insurance policy validity period

The insurance policy becomes valid when the insured obtains a legal right to temporary possession of the car which will expire at the time when the car has been returned to the car rental company, whether that is at its place of business or at another place. The insurance is only valid, however, for a rental period of 31 days or shorter.

Article 14. Costs, fees and expenses

When the insured has the right to be covered by another insurance policy, e.g. a mandatory liability insurance for the rental car or other comparable insurance, the Company reserves the right, without obligation, to take part in the defence and administration of any kind of claim or legal action that the Company might naturally take part in according to the provisions of the insurance terms.

All expenditures for investigation and defence in an action at law involving a claim covered by this insurance policy, including court costs, guarantees placed in case of appeal, interest prior to and subsequent to the rendering of judgement, shall not fall under the compensation limits of the insurance policy.

Article 15. Excluded risks

In addition to the exempted risks specified in the rental agreement, this insurance does not cover:

a. Liability for compensation which the insured is expected to undertake in accordance with legislation on uninsured drivers, under-insured drivers, or legislation concerning loss or damage when the driver is not culpable and legislation concerning the accidents of those who suffer such loss or damage or any other similar legislation that may exist. By accepting this insurance, the cardholder agrees that he will represent himself and all other individuals who may be co-insured under this insurance policy. The insured, furthermore, accepts to the extent permitted by law that the insurance policy does not provide any insurance cover which might otherwise be required under some or other such act of law. These excluded risks do not, however, include compensation up to USD 100,000 in total, which the insured and the co-insured have a right to collect according to the terms of an insurance policy which covers uninsured or under-insured drivers or accidents where the person causing the accident leaves the scene of accident.

b. Personal injury or damage to property of insured persons according to this insurance policy or, to the extent permitted by law in the state in which the rental agreement is signed, the bodily injury or damage to property of any person related to the insured by blood, marriage, or adoption and living under the same roof.

c. A judgement of compensation for the purpose of punishment or as a preventive measure.

d. Any kind of obligations where the insured or any other of his insurers may be deemed liable according to the Act on compensation to workers, for occupational illness, unemployment benefits or disability benefits or any other similar acts of law.

e. Physical injury or material damage which is the result of the spreading of, release of, sudden leakage or trickling of any kind of oil, mineral oil or derived materials, lipids, smoke, steam, soot, any type of harmful and poisonous matter, liquid and gases or other irritants or contaminants into or onto the ground, the atmosphere or any kind of moving water or lake, or wetland, but however not limited to hazardous materials in the groundwater, the subsoil or anything therein. This exclusion also applies to cleaning costs accrued and to any kind of physical injury or material damage resulting from or connected to any of the above. This provision does not, however, apply to the following:

a. if a tank or other such container holding pollutants has rolled over, turned upside down or been damaged because of the use of the insured rental car; or

b. such roll over or damage to the car causes the emission, distribution, release or sudden leakage of pollutants.

f. The insured person's liability for compensation which directly or indirectly arises from, occurs because of or is the consequence of war, invasion, the activities of foreign enemies, military conflict (whether or not war has been declared), civil war, riots, revolution, disturbances, takeover by the military or by other entities, confiscation or nationalisation of property, government commandments, destruction or damage to the rental car by or according to the dictates of any government or other authorities whatsoever country wide or in the provinces.

m. The insurance policy enters into force the moment when the insured obtains a legal right to temporary possession of the car which will expire at the time when the car has been returned to the car rental company, whether that is at its place of business or at another place. Liability according to this insurance policy is limited to the liability for which the insured would have been covered if he had taken a supplementary liability insurance (LIS) or other comparable insurance from the car rental company.

n. Liable loss or damage if no other liability insurance is in effect for the vehicle.

Article 16. Conditions

a. The acceptance of the insured:

By accepting the supplemental liability insurance (LIS) in the car rental agreement, the insured waives, on his behalf and on the behalf of other insured, his right concerning insurance protection from this insurance.

b. Claims against the Company:

A claim against the Company is not considered legitimate unless the insured has complied in full with all the terms and conditions of the insurance policy. Compensation will only be paid if it has been determined in a judgement or by the written approval of the insured, the creditors and the Company. Maximum compensation is limited to the insured amount of the insurance policy. The obligation of the Company to reach a settlement or to undertake to defend its position shall be completed when the insurance sum has been paid in full. The Company has no obligation to maintain a defence in any action at law or to negotiate a settlement concerning any claim because of physical injury or material damage which the insurance policy does not cover. No individual or agency holds any right under this insurance policy to link the Company to any direct legal proceedings against the insured in order to determine his liability to pay damages, nor may the insured or his legitimate representative link the Company to any such legal action. The bankruptcy or insolvency of the insured or the estate of the insured will not in any way change the obligations of the Company according to this insurance policy.

c. Appeals:

In the event that the insured chooses not to appeal the decision of the court where the claim amount exceeds the insurance amount of mandatory liability insurance for the rental car or other comparable insurance, the Company may do so at its own cost and it shall then bear the taxable costs, expenditures and insurance that may be accrued. The Company's liability, however, shall in no event exceed the amount specified in this insurance policy for any one occurrence in addition to taxable cost, expenditures and interest that may accrue under such appeal.

d. Assignment:

The transfer of interests under this insurance policy does not bind the Company unless there is a written agreement by the Company on the policy.

e. Assistance and co-operation by the insured:

The insured must co-operate with the Company with respect to any investigation, settlement of claims or defence against any kind of claim or legal action.

f. Bankruptcy or insolvency:

The insolvency or the financial inability of the insured will neither increase the amounts which the Company otherwise would have to pay, nor will this insurance policy be added to any reduced insurance amount that may be offered because of insolvency or financial inability of the insured.

g. Adjustments:

Notifying an agent or the knowledge of an agent or any other individual will neither affect an assignment or adjustment of any part of this insurance policy nor prevent the Company from exercising its rights under the insurance policy, neither will it be possible to waive the terms of the insurance policy or amend them except with an endorsement that forms part of this insurance policy and is signed by a qualified representative of the Company.

h. Loss and damage notification:

When an event occurs that causes physical injury or material damage and it would be natural to assume that this would be the cause of the making of a claim under this insurance policy, the insured must notify the Company in writing immediately, as soon as possible. Such notification will be an addition to any other commitments which the insured may have according to the mandatory liability insurance for the rental car or other similar insurance that the car rental company may take. Such notification shall provide detailed information regarding the insured and information which may be considered natural to gather taking into consideration time, location and the conditions connected with an insurance event. The insured shall, in the same manner, notify the Company regarding any kind of claim or legal action that he may receive because of such an event, and deliver all relevant documents and data. If the insured knowingly conceals from the Company any information regarding such a claim or legal action, or if he does not deliver data concerning the case, then such conduct may lead to the loss of insurance cover according to this present insurance policy.

i. Separation of interests:

The insurance policy will, in particular, cover any insured individual against whom claims are made or an action at law is brought, with the exception, however, that even though more than one insured individual is involved it shall not promote an increase in the insurance amount under Article 2 of the insurance policy.

j. Subrogation:

If the Company pays compensation for loss or damage according to this insurance policy, the Company shall accept all the rights of the insured to recourse connected with such payment, towards any individual or organisation whatsoever, and the insured shall have made and delivered instruments and documents and do whatever may be necessary in order to ensure such rights. The insured shall not undertake any action following an insurance event that might put such rights at risk. All recourse claims by the Company that are collected or are received after the loss or damage claim has been settled according to this insurance policy shall be utilised as they would have been utilised or would have been received prior to such settlement of loss or damage, and any necessary measures will then be made between the insured and the Company.
